Symposium: Division 10 Micro-Grant Research Presentations (Chairs: Roger Beaty & Jennifer Drake) – Location: College

The Division 10 Early Career Research Micro Grants program provides one-year funding to support emerging scholars conducting research in aesthetics, creativity, and the arts. This symposium features micro-grant recipients exploring diverse topics such as human-AI collaboration, digital art experiences, cultural identity in writing, personalized neural networks of art perception, tele-drama interventions for LGBTQ+ well-being, and creative strategies for countering misinformation.

1. Creative Partner: Comparing Human and Generative AI as Collaborator in Creative Tasks
Clin KY. Lai
2. From the Gallery to the Lab: Phenomenal Art-Experience Across (Digital) Contexts
Stephanie Miller
3. Preserving Human Diversity in the AI Era: How Human-AI Collaboration Impacts Cultural Identity in Literary Creativity
Simone Luchini
4. Using Personalized Deep Neural Networks to Model the Effect of Category Learning on Internal Representations of Art
Edward A. Vessel
5. The Life Stories of Older Gay Men in Italy and Their Response to a Tele-Drama-Based Intervention: A Qualitative Research
Gianmarco Biancalani
6. Can Creating Misinformation Counter its Spread?
Hansika Kapoor

Individual Talks: Creativity and AI (Chair: Seyedahmad Rahimi) – Location: Chapel

1. Evaluating ChatGPT's Ideas: The Roles of Individual Creativity and Expertise in Human-AI Co-Creativity
Paul V. DiStefano, Daniel C. Zeitlen, Janet Rafner, Pier-Luc de Chantal, & Roger E. Beaty
2. Does AI-assisted ideation outperform solo ideation among creative professionals? A study of creativity in the advertising industry
Orin C. Davis, Nahdira D. Rollins, William O. Fogarty, & Daniela Plattner
3. An Automated Human-Creativity Assessment and Machine Creativity in a Sandbox Game Using Generative AI

	Seyedahmad Rahimi 4. Agentic Perspective on Human-AI Collaboration for Image Generation and Creative Writing: Insights from Think-Aloud Protocols Janet Rafner, Blanka Zana, Ida Bang Hansen, Simon Ceh, Jacob Sherson, Mathias Benedek, & Izabela Lebuda <hr/> Individual Talks: Art Across Contexts (Chair: Thomas Jacobsen) – Location: George 1. Tracking the Process of Life-Associated Art Experience: Longitudinal Analysis of Art-Viewing at Home Using Experience Sampling Method Kazuki Matsumoto & Takeshi Okada 2. Constructing a 2D perceptual stimuli space with generative AI Andrew Frankel 3. Looking Expensive: How the valuation of paintings vary across expertise and context Qin Li 4. The Beauty in Defilement: How Morally Contentious Content Alters Aesthetic Judgment Thomas Jacobsen, Christian Duer, & Selina M. Weiler
2:00 – 2:50	Poster Session
2:50 – 3:10	Break
3:10 – 4:00 PM	Symposium: AI Advances in Creativity Assessment (Chair: Roger Beatty) – Location: College This symposium explores AI and computational methods in creativity assessment. Presentations examine using AI for real-time feedback on human-generated ideas; applications of AI-based assessments in college admissions to enhance fairness and predict academic success; advances in multilingual models for automated creativity scoring; balancing originality and appropriateness in children's creativity using Pareto optimization; and new approaches to automated generation of creativity test items. 1. AI-Driven Creativity Assessments: Shaping the Future of College Admissions Kibum Moon 2. Automated Generation and Evaluation of Creativity Assessments using Large Language Models Antonio Laverghetta Jr.

3. Scoring German Alternate Uses Items Applying Large-Language Models
Janika Saretzki
4. A Trade-Off in Children's Creativity: Using Pareto Optimization to Balance Originality and Task-Appropriateness
Denis Dumas
5. From AI Assessment to Feedback in Creativity Research
Yoed Kennett

Symposium: Playfulness and Creative Arts in Enhancing Health and Well-Being (Chair: Hod Orkibi) – Location: Chapel

This symposium examines the role of playfulness and creative arts in enhancing well-being across diverse contexts: the impact of playful improvisational theatre on cognitive function in older adults; drama as an intervention to address minority stress among LGBTQ+ youth; the use of musical synchronicity in anxiety interventions; and the role of playfulness as a coping strategy during conflict.

1. Playful Minds: Improvisational Theatre as a Cognitive Enhancement Tool for Older Adults
Shoshi Keisari
2. Psychodrama as group intervention on minority stress, identity and psychosocial well-being of LGBTQ+ young adults: A qualitative case study
Gianmarco Biancalani, Ines Testoni, Giulio de Pasquale, & Lucia Ronconi
3. Musical Synchronicity and Playfulness in Music Psychotherapy: Deepening Understanding of their Mechanistic Value and Implications for Arts-Based Interventions with Anxiety Disorders
Rebecca Zarate
4. Playfulness in Times of Extreme Adverse Conditions: Two Video Case Illustrations
Hod Orkibi, Rinat Feniger-Schaal, & Tobias Constien

Individual Talks: Aesthetic Appraisals (Chair: Jan Mikuni) – Location: George

1. Individual differences in the relationship between beauty and comfort
Maria Pombo & Denis G. Pelli
2. Tattooed Beauty? How Social Norms and Expertise Shape the Aesthetic Appreciation of Tattoos
Selina M. Weiler, Christian Duer, Dustin Kramer, & Thomas Jacobsen

	3. The effect of perceived emotion on art preference is mediated by feelings of being moved Anna Bruns & Tanushree Agrawal 4. Interactions with Art in an Everyday Urban Environment Anna Lena Knoll, Jan Mikuni, & Eva Specker
4:10 – 5:00 PM	Student Showcase (Chair: Thalia Goldstein) – Location: College
5:00 – 6:00 PM	Surviving and Thriving in Graduate School (Students Only) – Location: George Join us for an inclusive workshop tailored for students eager to navigate the complexities of grad life. Engage in roundtable AMAs across vital topics—dissertations, networking and collaboration, teaching, grants, publishing, mental health, navigating post-docs, and future career paths. Our diverse panel spans from near graduates to approachable experts, all ready to share their insights in a welcoming, interactive environment. It'll be a unique opportunity to ask anything, connect with peers, and navigate the challenges of grad school together!

Saturday, March 15

9:00 – 9:50 AM	Keynote Address (TBA) – Location: College
10:00 – 10:50 AM	Symposium: Developments in the Assessment of Creative Ideation and Achievement (Chair: Selina Weiss) – Location: College In this symposium, we focus on different developments in the assessment of creative ideation including work on the interplay between quantity and quality as a function of time spent in the ideational process in elementary students, the Multi-Trial Creative Ideation (MTCI) framework and verbal and figural divergent thinking in immersive virtual reality. Furthermore, we explore new methods for the assessment of creative achievements. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Slow vs. Fast Idea Generation: Latency Differentially Predicts Ideational Quantity and Quality Selcuk Acar 2. Novel Assessments: Divergent Thinking in Virtual Reality Selina Weiss 3. Capturing the Originality-Cost with the Multi-Trial Creative Ideation (MTCI) Framework Baptiste Barbot 4. Automated scoring of creative achievements Mathias Benedek <hr/> Symposium: Drama in Education: Igniting Creativity and Socio-Cognitive Skills Through Emotions (Chair: Macarena-Paz Celume) – Location: Chapel This symposium explores the interplay between emotional development and creativity through drama education featuring insights from three researchers in psychology, pedagogy, and theatre. Celume studies the emotional creative process of drama-pedagogy in children. Goldstein investigates emotional and cognitive outcomes in first-time theatre participants. Finally, Dawson explores psychological outcomes for students and teachers who use drama-based pedagogy to redesign climate literacy curriculum. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The Emotional Creative Process of Drama Pedagogy Macarena-Paz Celume & Marion Botella 2. Beyond simple transfer: Connections among emotional state, sense of safety, and acting habits of mind in elementary school theatre classrooms Thalia R. Goldstein & Abbey Milhaven 3. Climate justice with youth: Co-creating school improvement through drama Kathryn Dawson

	Individual Talks: Physiology and Aesthetics (Chair: Anna Fekete) – Location: George <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. A Psychophysiological Study Exploring Aesthetic Engagement during Self-Selected and Recommender-Selected Movie Trailers Harrison Chapman & Anna Abraham 2. Physiology Meets Aesthetics: An Analysis of Nature and Music Videos Vasiliki Meletaki & Nora Youn, Hilary Serra, Isabella Bobrow, & Anjan Chatterjee 3. How does multimodal aesthetic experience reduce pain and stress? Anna Fekete, Rosa M. Maidhof, Eva Specker, Urs M. Nater, & Helmut Leder 4. Investigating Aesthetic Experiences in Everyday Life: A Mobile Eye-Tracking Approach Tristan Barriere, Anna Lena Knoll, Aenne Brielmann, Eva Specker, & Helmut Leder

1:00 – 1:50 PM	Symposium: Measuring Aesthetic Experiences to Creative Behavior: New Psychometric Tools for Understanding Arts Engagement, Inspiration, and Creative Action (Chair: Kaile Smith) – Location: College This symposium introduces four new psychometric tools to measure arts and creative experiences. The talks span the Assessment of Aesthetic Participation Survey for inclusive arts engagement, the Art Engagement Reflection Scale for understanding art viewing processes, the Trait Inspiration Scale for measuring individual differences in inspiration, and a revised Creative Behavior Inventory for assessing everyday creativity. These tools provide exciting new ways of studying aesthetics and creativity. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Expanding the Canvas: The Assessment of Aesthetic Participation (AAP) and Inclusive Arts Measurement Hannah Merseal 2. Assessing Art Engagement: The Development of the Art Engagement Reflection Scale (AERS) Rebekah Rodriguez-Boerwinkle

3. Construction and Validation of the Trait Inspiration Scale: A New Measure of Individual Differences in Inspiration

Kaile Smith

4. Developing a Revised Creative Behavior Inventory (CBI-R) for Everyday Creative Behaviors via Network Psychometrics

Paul Silvia

Individual Talks: Creativity, Art, and Well-Being (Chair: Matthew Pelowski)
– Location: Chapel

1. Aesthetic Elements of Urban Environments and their relation to Wellbeing: A scoping review

Kirren Chana, Margot Dehove, Jan Mikuni, Eva Specker, Anna Lena Knoll, Tristan Barriere, MacKenzie Trupp, Matthew Pelowski, Elisabeth Oberzaucher, & Helmut Leder

2. What Makes People High in Openness to Experience Happy? The Mediating Effect of Arts Engagement

Maria Manolika & Thomas Jacobsen

3. How Lasting is the Impact of Art?: An Exploratory Study of the Incidence and the Duration of Art Exhibition-Induced Prosocial Attitude Change Using a Two-Week Daily Diary EMA Method

Matthew Pelowski

4. A Consensus Definition of Creativity in Surgery: A Focus Group and Delphi Study

Alex Thabane, Tyler McKechnie, Phillip Staibano, Goran Calic, Vikram Arora, Margaret E. Webb, Jason W. Busse, Sameer Parpia, & Mohit Bhandari

Individual Talks: Divergent Thinking (Chair: Jennifer Katz-Buonincontro) – Location: George

1. “Can a pencil become a marshmallow barbel?”: Fantasy orientation predicts creativity in study divergent thinking responses

Meg Atha, Jen Katz-Buonincontro, & Shatakshi Tyagi

2. Bilingualism and Creativity: How Dual-Language Proficiency Shapes Divergent Thinking in the Alternate Uses Test

Matias Fernandez-Duque, Suhuai Chen, & Viorica Marian

3. Novelty versus Function: The effect of age on Question-Asking, Creativity, and Problem-Solving

Tuval Raz, Michele T. Diaz, & Yoed N. Kenett
